

so that he will not reject us finally on the day of judgement. All he wants us to do now is to repent from our sin before it is too late.

Are you still living in sin? The bible said this; Repent for the kingdom of heaven is at hand, Matthew 4:17. In Acts 2:38, it says, repent, it means to turn from sin. Are you not tired of the life of sin? Why not now invite Jesus to come into your heart so that you will escape that future punishment by God that will befall all unrepentant sinners?

(A True Life Story)

Do you know children are the most precious thing to any reasonable and normal man anywhere in the world? When a man gets married, apart from his wife, nothing is more precious to him than his children. As he watches them being born and growing up normally that gives him an inner joy which nothing can be compared to. You can see under normal circumstances if a man do not have children though he tried severally through his wife and failed, he will not be a completely happy man. He would go about thinking in pain why he could not just produce just one child of his own. That is the joy of fatherhood and pain of it if you do not have.

Now imagine a father who gave birth to a child going to the court to renounce him and declare the boy is no longer his son and whatever he does he is not his own and he should not be involved. You can see, it is the case of joy turn into sorrow.

There is the life story of this young man we all grew up together, he was a promising young man and very good looking and handsome. He grew up to become a miscreant in the society, terrorising his family, immediate community and beyond. So many people dreaded him as a young boy though he was my friend, I also dreaded him, the young man grew up and his atrocities became so much that his own father could no longer bear it that he had to go to the court to renounce him publicly that he ceases to be his son. That never changed the boy, he continued that way of life and during one of his escapades he had encounter with the police and he was shot dead. That was how that young man in his early twenties lost his life, very painfully he died being rejected by men, family and the society, and he lost his life in sin.

Like that young man, we have all sinned against God and are to face his eternal judgment. By God's divine justice you and I are the reject of God, but there is mercy for us through Christ Jesus. Though we are sinners God showed us love by sending his son Jesus to die in our place
