

As you read through this tract, has Jesus saved you from sin? Are your sins washed away by the blood of Jesus? Are you still claiming mere religion while you know you are still living in immorality, lying, stealing and all kinds of sin? Jesus said, come unto me all ye that labour and are heavy laden and I will give you rest, Matthew 11:28, Jesus said repent, Matthew 4:17. All have sinned and come short of God's glory, Romans 3:23.

You can turn to God today and ask for his forgiveness and invite Jesus into your heart. Do it today, tomorrow might be too late.

(A True Life Story)

Have you ever stolen in your life before? Have you seen someone caught stealing? If you are not a thief there are many thieves out there, whichever way you look at stealing, it is taking something belonging to others with the intention of not letting them know and then using that same thing in your own way without the consent of the owner. That is a simple definition of stealing. It is taking what belongs to others with the intention of keeping it to yourself without letting them know.

There is a man while he was young was very religious but was still stealing and doing some other sinful things. There was a day one of his friends who was attending a Pentecostal church invited him to attend their fellowship which he obliged with the agreement that another time they would also attend his Orthodox church, so he followed the friend to his Pentecostal church. Before the church service that day he had stolen his mother's money which he had initially denied, then he went to that church service, the minister preached and along the line he was touched and he got salvation, for Christ came into him to dwell. He knew something happened to him, the peace and joy from the risen Christ came into him.

That same evening when he got home he went immediately to his mother and confessed he stole the money, Hallelujah! Jesus had transformed him from a sinner to a saint, from a liar to truthful young man. He was about 14 years or so at that point. His father who knew him to be a bad boy confessed there was a drastic change in him that was the evidence of the fruits of repentance the bible talked about in Matthew 3:8. From what happened to the young man one can tell that Jesus has saved him from sin.

What happened to that boy can happen to you as you read through this tract if you have not experienced the salvation of Christ. When Jesus saves you from sin, he will initially give you his peace and joy and roll away the burden of sin. You will begin to hate anything sin but love righteousness.
