(A True Life Story)

There are things that are remarkable in the life of every adult that he or she will ever live to remember, such things would either give good or bad memories. Are there past memories that flashes your mind at one point or the other during the day? Sometimes you wish such a day should keep repeating itself because of the beautiful thing that happened. Others you never wish such a day to ever come up because what happened was that of horror, pain and disappointment of a big proportion sometimes of shame.

In life some people enter into a bad situation either by choice or by circumstances while some in such situation eventually come out triumphant, others are swallowed by it. May the reader of this tract not be swallowed by any bad situation in Jesus name.

There were two young men fresh from the higher institution they were employed and working in a company whose employers rented a place for as guest house while one was an unbeliever carrying women and committing immorality, the other was a believer in Christ who was not into all that. There was a day the one carrying women brought a lady to the guest house for the purpose of sleeping with her, the friend who is a believer did something that obstructed the whole thing, after what he did, the sinful plan of the colleague got shattered. The believer friend invited the lady to go to church service with him and the girl obliged and followed hoping when she returns, she could continue with her immoral life with the other young man. When she got to church something happened that changed the whole story.

She heard the word of God and conviction came upon her and she repented and became born again, her sins were washed away, she became a child of God no longer a child of the devil living in immorality. When she got back to the guest house haven become transformed by the power of the risen Christ, she detested that immoral life of fornication and she told the boyfriend she was no longer doing. Hallelujah! The power of
