

cross washed away his sin.

It is that same young student preacher who preached to that fellow student after more than 30 years ago or thereabout that God is using to write this tract and also preaching the gospel to you that you should repent from your evil way and invite Jesus into your life. Tell God how sinful you have been and that you are sorry he should forgive you. The God who saved that young campus student is able to save you today, do not harden your heart.

Jesus said, come unto me, Matthew 11 verse 28, he promised to give you rest. Jesus said repent, Matthew 4:17. What are you waiting for? Repent and like that young campus student go to the church and testify how Jesus saved you reading this tract, Amen.

THE FINAL DAY FOR HIM TO BE INITIATED INTO A CAMPUS CULT
HAPPENED
(A True Life Story)

In the world they say nearly cannot kill a bird. Have you in your life being closed to a disaster, then by a whisker you escaped and you are wondering what happened? You look back and you could only conclude it was God who just saved you or else you could have become consumed.

There are also some other people that never lived to share their story because they were caught up in the incidence that took their lives, they were near safety but at the last minute they were caught up, they could not make it, their story ended badly, there was no remedy, may this never be the portion of any one reading this tract, however, you must obey all God is teaching you here.

So many years ago, there was a campus student who while in the campus and though still living went about preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ in his campus at a point he was moving from one room to the other preaching to other students. There was a day he preached to a particular student but never knew they were to do initiation into a particular campus cult which that boy has been introduced into, however he preached to him and not knowing what happened left the young man.

The young believer graduated out, left the campus, years later he heard how one of the young men he preached to had become a true Christian who came to the campus fellowship to testify. His preaching that day touched the other young man and he never went for that initiation rather he surrendered to Jesus and that is how he was spared of that calamity. He escaped from being an occult member and who knows he may have died like some others who became members of various cult group in the institution of higher learning.

Do you know why he escaped? Jesus saved him, he heard the gospel and he surrendered his life to Christ, he gave his heart to Jesus to come dwell in, he repented from his sins and God forgave him. The blood of Jesus shed on the
